Brand New Book  Print on Demand .THE MURDER-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB Captain Monty Chichester, a retired British naval officer, and his wife Isobel run an old boarding house in Whitcliffe-on-the-Sea, a fictional village on the Maine coast. The town is perpetually shrouded in smog, partly due to fog perpetually laying over the harbor and smoke from a local coat factory. Also residing at the inn, besides their beautiful granddaughter Estelle who is the new village librarian, and the Captain's elderly mother, are three roomers of advanced age: Fiona Cottsworth, the former librarian; Iris Wimbledon, an actress at liberty; and Ben Fawkes, a plumber. They are all immigrants from England so they make up a senior citizen Little British community in America. All but Estelle are members of an afternoon club which meets at the inn and takes up diversions such as bridge or whist. Their current phase is dissecting murder novels. To the inn comes a young American, Stephen Longcommon, who learns from Captain Chichester that everyone in Whitcliffe is doomed to die -- from the village factory's pollution. Stephen shows concern but is more interested in Estelle. He is liked by those at the inn, but none knows why he has come to Whitcliffe. Isobel, Fiona, and Iris agree they are growing tired of the current phase. Fiona remarks that they have read and analyzed so many murder novels, they know enough about murder to commit the perfect crime. The notion is taken up at the next meeting and all agree that would make a splendid new phase for the club. They agree to do in everyone in Whitcliffe who has to do with the coat factory's pollution. This includes its elderly...
