When he retreated across the Libyan desert with the remnant of Pompey s army after the battle of Pharsalia. Lucan, Pharsalia, Book IX.: -- Foremost, behold, I lead you to the toil, My feet shall foremost print the dusty soil. 31. Boccaccio confesses that he does not know where Dante found this tradition of Alexander. Benvenuto da Imola says it is in a letter which Alexander wrote to Aristotle. He quotes the passage as follows: In India ignited vapors fell from heaven like snow. I commanded my soldiers to trample them under foot. Dante perhaps took the incident from the old metrical Romance of Alexander, which in some form or other was current in his time. In the English version of it, published by the Roxburghe Club, we find the raiu of fire, and a fall of snow; but it is the...
