Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Poems of Henry Howard Earl of Surrey, Vol. 1: October, 1920 It is now rather more than a century Since George Frederick Nott published his elaborate edition of the works of Henry Howard, Earl of Surrey. Since then no scholarly edition has been attempted. During this time, however, many facts bearing upon the career of Surrey have come to light, a noteworthy biography has been published, studies dealing with various phases of the poetry have appeared, and manuscript versions of many of the lyrics and two fresh texts of the fourth book of the feneid have been discovered. The time therefore seems ripe for a new edition that will take advantage of this fresh knowledge, giving more authoritative readings in the poems and furnishing the equipment needed by the scholar. The present volume aims to meet this need. I have classified the poems by subject - matter rather than by metrical forms, thinking that this classification may furnish a more human approach. I trust that this arrangement, as well as the titles which I have supplied in place of the long traditional titles in Tottel's Miscellany, will meet with the reader's approval. For the convenience of those who wish to make a critical study of the translation of the Eneid, I have printed Tottel's version of the fourth book and a version based upon the text in Manuscript Hargrave 205, on opposite pages. The latter version departs from the manuscript readings only where there is strong presumptive evidence that the revisions restore the original. If these revisions have been based upon correct reasoning, this text should approximate...
