Excerpt: .of the States with each other; the power to regulate commerce between them, --and to establish post-offices and post-roads. But there are two others intimately connected with these relations;--the one, to establish uniform rules of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies, throughout the United States;--and the other, to secure, for a limited time, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries. In addition, there is a class which relates to both. They consist of the power to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coins, and to fix the standard of weights and measures, --to provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States; to provide for calling forth the militia, to suppress insurrections and repel invasions; to provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for...
